The Devil broke loose among the Banks.

Read the following circular:

STATE BANK OF INDIANA,
Indianapolis, Aug. 16, 1850.

Resolved, That the Ohio Life Insurance and Trust Company, in assuming the agency of the Associated Banks of Ohio and Wheeling occupies a hostile position in regard to the State Bank of Indiana, and on this account it shall be the duty of the Branches of the Bank having deposits in that Company, to withdraw such deposits within the next thirty days, and as soon as practicable, to sever all connection with her which is not necessary for the convenience of their customers.

Resolved, That the counters of the respective Branches are the only proper, as they are the only legal place for the redemption of their notes, and in such redemption from the Ohio Agency, or any other institutions, specie, and nothing else, should be paid.

Resolved, That any arrangement, permanent or temporary, by which any of the Branches of this Bank redeem, or agree to redeem, their notes at the Ohio Agency with exchange, is inconsistent with the duty of the Bank, and tends to making her tributary to Cincinnati and her banking institutions.

Resolved, That as long as the Ohio Agency continues its present operations, the Branches of this Bank should, as far as practicable, replenish their vaults by specie to be obtained at Cincinnati, and that the importation of coin from the East, for such purpose, is of doubtful expediency.

Resolved, That it be recommended to the different Branches to give circulation, as far as practicable, to the notes of such Western banking institutions, in good standing, as are not connected with the Ohio Agency; and to co-operate with them in such measures as may be deemed advisable to resist the aggression.

Resolved, That the Cashier transmit to the President of the Board of Control of the State Bank of Ohio, at Columbus, and the several banks of Ohio, a copy of the foregoing resolutions, to be laid before such Boards at their first sessions respectively.

Great Flood in the East—Loss of Life and Property.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3.

Accounts from the Schuylkill represent the freshest caused by the recent rains, as very destructive to life and property.

A large number of country and canal bridges are swept away. The Harrisburgh and Lancaster bridges, crossing the Schuylkill from Reading are gone. The Reading R. R. bridge Schuylkill navigation company are located. Ten iron bridges at Mill Creek, belonging to the Railroad, are said to be carried away. Fifty feet of embankment at that Creek Falls Dam, and the big Dam below Reading, property of the Navigation Company, are swept away. The canal is injured beyond all possibility of repair this season. A number of houses are swept away—some floated down the river with people in and on them. Several lives are lost.

Accounts from Lehigh bear similarity to the above. The river had risen to a great height, and was covered with 200,000 feet of lumber and logs. The various towns on the Lehigh are overflooded, and the injury done the canal will require three weeks to repair.

The embankment of the Tide Water Canal, at Havre de Grace, gave way yesterday, and navigation will be suspended for a week.

Further Particulars of the Flood.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3.

At an early hour this morning the scene from Fair mount to the naval Asylum was one of terror, and picturesqueness.

The rush and roar of the angry and devastating waters were appalling. The wharves were all hid from view, and above some of them the water was full ten feet high. Warehouses, mills, coal and wood yards, counting houses, stables and sheds innumerable were inundated. Many of the buildings which stood near the piers looked as if they had changed their original positions for new ones away out in the middle of the stream. Immense quantities of wood, coal and lime, &c., had been swept off the wharves, and some of which retained scarcely a vestige of the property that was piled upon them the evening before.

The water rose to such an altitude at the manufacturing department of the Philadelphia Gas Works, at the foot of Market street, had to stop all operations.

The Fairmount Water Works were stopped, and will not run perhaps for some days. This should make every body prudent in the use of water.

At 5 o'clock this morning the water in the Fairmount dam was ten feet ten inches and a half high.

No estimate can be made of the destruction of property. From Fairmount to Grey's Ferry it has been unprecedented.

The Black Rock bridge and Manayunk bridges are gone. The Mills at Manayunk are under water.

The Reading Railroad sustained much damage.

The Schuylkill Canal is so much injured that it is feared it will not be repaired this season.

Come, lend me attention, I'll tell you the truth, Though many there be who believe us foolish.

We Buckeyes are called, though the bucks are all gone, And the doe too is sporting elsewhere with her fawn

The doe too is sporting elsewhere with her fawn And the bear and the wolf have both followed their track.

Good-bye to the beasts, for we wish them not back. Our fathers were Yankees, accustomed to toil, Who migrated hither to seek a good soil.

They found it, and saw it was deep, rich and fat, Well timbered, well watered, with health and all that.

The natives had fled to the far rocky hills, No more to annoy with their war-whoops and yells.

So they thought it would suit well their muscle and nerve, And settled here on this Western Reserve.

All smoking with steamers, Lake Erie's in sight, Where Perry once held his victorious fight, And taught the proud Britons 'twas dangerous to try.

Life, commerce, and enterprise, waken each where beauty, and fashion, and courtesy meet. The fawn of the forest full plenty you'll find, Of different uses, and various kind.

The chestnut, the hickory, the elm and the oak, The two last for making hub, felly, and spoke. The black and white walnut, the cherry and box, The white wood, the beech, for the yoke of the good.

The cherry and rock-maple, the cucumber tree, A tree, I suppose, that is unknown to you; The butternut, sassafras, and many more, I know not exactly, perhaps half a score.

What more shall I say? Do you ask for their Five fruits let me tell you what numbers are here.

The apple, the peach, and the plum, and the pear, We peel them, and cut them, and dry them to sell.

A bushel of profit that does very well. The quince, and the isabelle grape, too, we grow, And smaller fruits, as our rich gardens will show.

To friends and to strangers, as well as they call, We ever are ready to bid welcome to all.

Our country is open; we're neighbors to cheer— Good fences, good roads, and fine prospects abound.

Behold, here the but of the savage once stood, Where the bear and the catamount roamed for their food.

Where the wolf, nightly prowling, howl'd o'er the dark plain, Are fields of rich culture all waving with grain!

Of most of your grasses here have no lack; They thrive, and are lusty, because they're well fed.

And never are tender, but tough as a knot— Heads up, and move lively—ay, quick as a shot.

You now have our story; but will it suffice? You'd better come on, and see with your own eyes.

We'll treat you as well as we Buckeyes know how. Though simple and homely, sure, we must avow.

We'll give you plain punching, substantial and good. And such as we Westerns make our common food.

We've pork, beef and mutton, wild turkey and goose, With chickens, and eggs, without number, for ease.

And the too, our wives, they can furnish you out. With a fine fatted squirrel, or a Mackinaw trout.

Or puddings and pies, fritters, doughnuts and such. Pench sauce, maple treacle, both prized very much.

But enough—come along!—we shall ask you no more. You're welcome, if e'er you should knock at our door.

A Big Whig Gun Spiked.

It appears from the Ohio State Journal that the Whigs of Central Ohio will meet with an irreparable loss in the sudden demise of Gen. O. Hinton. The General seems to have been chief fugler for the Whigs in those parts.

At the recent Whig Congressional Convention, held at Columbus, at which SAM GALLOWAY was put in nomination to look after CHARLEY SWETZER, the following proceedings were had. We quote from the Journal:

"Gen. O. Hinton, of Delaware, rose to move that the nomination be unanimously confirmed by acclamation, and pledged Delaware to do her whole duty for the nominee, and roll up a larger majority for the Whig candidate than any other county in the district. Gen. Hinton's motion was then carried by a standing vote, amidst much applause. A committee consisting of Gen. Hinton, of Delaware, Judge Hunsicker, of Licking, and Dr. London, of Franklin, were appointed to wait on Mr. Galloway, and inform him of his nomination."

The Ohio State Journal in noticing this Convention, editorially said:

"The remarks of Gen. Hinton in behalf of Delaware county were very happy, and met with much applause. They were such as Whigs had a right to expect from him, and that is saying a great deal; for his zeal and patriotism are well known and appreciated by the Whigs of the district."

Better have nominated Hinton. He is not only a good Galphin Whig, but a good runner. Vide coat tail, as he flew down the Weddell House stairs.—Plain Dealer.

The Democrats of Iowa have a majority of 7 in the Senate and 31 in the House, making 38 majority on joint ballot. That's doing it up brown.

Gen. Cass's Letter to Garibaldi.

EDITORS OF BALTIMORE SUN—Gentlemen:

Having learned that Gen. Cass has addressed a letter of welcome to the Roman patriot and hero, Garibaldi, who fired the last shot for Italian independence, I applied respectfully for a copy of the same, and herewith take pleasure in enclosing it to you.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14, 1850.

My Dear Sir—I welcome you to this land of freedom. May it always be the land of hospitality to the unfortunate exile, driven by the persecution of arbitrary power to seek refuge in the new world from the tyranny of the old.

General, you possess the regard and sympathy of the American people, and you will merit this distinction. You raised the standard of liberty upon the Capitoline hill, and history will do justice to your noble efforts to maintain it there, to revive the spirit and the freedom of ancient Rome, amid the monuments of her power and glory. It is not success that hallows a cause; it is the principle involved in it. You yielded to an overwhelming force; to another descent of the Gauls upon Italy. But you preserved your own high character, and you preserved also the respect of every believer in the rights of man throughout the world. But such efforts, as those of the Roman people, though unsuccessful, are not useless. The battle of freedom may be lost once and again, but it will yet be won, and man restored to the rights which God has given him.

I thank you, General, for your letter, and for the enclosure from Mr. Hyatt, though you need no introduction to an American. Your glorious exertions, followed by misfortune, borne with equanimity, are a passport to the hearts and homes of my countrymen.

I should be happy to see you in Washington, and to express to you in person those sentiments of respect and regard, which I must now put coldly upon paper, and with which I am ever, truly and faithfully, your friend and servant.

LEWIS CASS.

DR. GUYSSOT'S IMPROVED EXTRACT OF YELLOW DOCK AND SARSAPARILLA, put up in the largest sized bottles, contains more of the pure Honduras Sarsaparilla than any other preparation extant, which is chemically combined with the Extract of Yellow Dock, the Extract of Wild Cherry, and the Balsam of Fir, thus making the remedy more thoroughly efficient than any other Sarsaparilla before the public. At the same time it is perfectly free from all mineral poisons, which cannot be said of any other of the Sarsaparilla compounds. The invalid should beware of poisons! Mercury, Iron, Quinine, Potash, Iodine, Sulphur, Arsenic, and many other mineral and metallic poisons enter into and form the active basis of most of the Sarsaparillas and Panaceas of the day. Guyssot's Compound Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla does not contain a particle of these substances; as any one can ascertain by applying the necessary tests.

These poisons may occasionally remove disease, but they so vitiate the blood and completely impregnate the whole system with their baneful effects, that the first cold, or the first attack of disease, prostrates the patient's strength, and subjects him or her to the most excruciating torture, and renders another cure almost impossible and hopeless. Let all poisonous Sarsaparilla preparations alone, and use Guyssot's Improved Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla, which is thoroughly efficacious, perfectly harmless and purely vegetable. All kinds of diseases yield to its genial influence.

No Charge for Consultation.

Dr. Tubbs neither bleeds nor blisters—nor is he a Homeopathist—he never uses Mercury, Antimony, Arsenic nor any other Mineral or medical agent—nor is he a Thomsonian. His theory of disease differs from all others that have been adopted; but not more so than does his system of treatment! He does not make a sick man make well, nor treat him to build up again—nor any nervous irritation by patching up with anodynes.

By calling, persons unacquainted with this practice, may obtain names of individuals residing at or near the several appointments who have been restored to perfect health by Analytical treatment after all other means had failed. Among the cures performed in Northern Ohio, since introducing the Analytical system may be found almost every variety of disease known in this Latitude many of which were of years standing and had been pronounced utterly incurable by attendant physicians. All letters must be directed to Dr. H. Tubbs, Cleveland, O. POST PAID.

Visits to the above appointments will be continued once in four or five weeks.
